INTERIM JOINT MATRICULATION BOARD EXAMINATION (IJMBE) BUSINESS MANAGEMENT SYLLABUS (REVISED 2012)

FIRST SEMESTER PAPER I: INTRODUCTION TO BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

A. Introduction:

Management is the basic integrating process of business activity that surrounds our daily life. The need for management arose out of scarcity of resources necessary for the satisfaction of numerous human wants. Since resources are limited and human needs and wants are abundant, there is need to manage the limited resources to meet the needs and wants of man.

Business organizations exist to supply goods and services to people. They make use of available resources to meet man's needs and achieve their objectives. This calls for understanding how to develop and apply the principles and theory of business management.

This course presents the rudiments of the theory and science of management. The first semester of this program emphasizes the essentials of business management. Managing is a part of a large system which interacts with a manager's total environment – demographic, cultural, economic, technological, political, legal and natural. Thus, the actions of managers must be a reflection and modification of the actual situations in which they operate and the realities they face.

In developing a framework for management operation, the functions which managers perform, such as planning, organizing, staffing, leading and controlling, are adopted. Each function is further broken down for easy understanding and comprehension.

The principles of management provide basic knowledge of management to the students. They constitute the building blocks of a sound management education which enhance the students' knowledge and understanding of the practice of business management and the historical development of management thought.

The syllabus is intended for a one-year course spread over two semesters. The test comprises essay questions that encourage the students to express their knowledge and understanding of the subject. Candidates will be required to answer five questions out of eight.
